STILL IN THE OLD SANDS

and continuing our GREAT Removal Sale

It is taking much longer than we expected to get out our new removal sale. It is so, but this is an evidence that we are giving the public an opportunity of purchasing cheaper goods than they usually get, and we are not to be outdone in our efforts to get out our new removal sale. We will not be outdone in our efforts to get out our new removal sale. We will not be outdone in our efforts to get out our new removal sale.

Missionary Life and Labor in China.

By our Fellow Townsman, Mr. W. S. HORN.

A year having now elapsed since Mr. Horn left us for China, a short account of how the Lord has blessed, guided, and provided for him since then, will, we feel sure, be welcomed both by personal friends and those interested in Missionary work in China generally.

Mr. Horn's journey to China was a long one, and it was not until he reached Shanghai that he found the friends he had hoped to meet.

THE LADIES!

A New and Improved Form of Balm for the relief of all the ailments of the female sex.

Many cases of these long-suffering ladies have been cured by the use of this Balm.

A great lady says she has been cured of a long-continued case of nervous disease produced in Canada.

It is only too true. It is a very good medicine for the female sex, and is a very good medicine for the female sex.

Mr. Martin died previous to 1878; the business passed into the hands of his sons, who failed, because of the decline in saw mill work, which had been their specialty.

The concern is now in successful operation by the Pettit Mfg. Co.

The Brown foundry, our contemporary will be delighted to learn, has been continued by the same firm, and is now enlarged to its borders.

The company some years ago purchased the old M. E. Church, which the time will remember well, and occupied as a work shop.

There were many more failures in manufacturing in Belleville in late N. P. times than under the present tariff.

We might complete the discomfiture of our contemporary by giving it facts as to the beneficial effect of protection to the foundry, furniture manufacturers, carriage makers and other local industries.

Don't hawk, hawk, and blow, but, disagreeing everybody, but use Dr. Sage's Catarrh Remedy and be cured.

For Religious Troubles in Canada. The Charge brought by "Le Canada," of Dec. 1st, 1890, is hereby acknowledged.

"We hold the Jesuits responsible for the greater part of the religious and semi-religious quarrels," says Le Canada, of Ottawa, replying to an article in Le "Tribune," which has previously returned our thanks and finally the whole of Canada.

We further add: You are of the belief that we are in a state of clerical alchemy with the bishops, whom you would wish to govern but whom we follow in our religious and political opinions.

Our free trade contemporary which is published at Hamilton has come forward again in support of its allegation that the N. P. has proved injurious to the manufacturing industries of Belleville.

Our questions to the Times, sent it the following answers: 1. Is the N. P., as it implies, responsible for the drop in the price of barley?

In answer to No. 1, our contemporary reluctantly, but in as dubious and insinuating way as possible, admits that the present low price of barley is not owing to the N. P.

To our second question the Times makes no other reply than "The worst hit 'who N. P., gives the farmer is by 'hacking' what he has to buy, and thus 'enhancing' the cost of his produce."

"Barley and other grain." If such be the case, how comes it that grain at present commands a higher price in Canada in comparison with the price in the United States, than it did while the Mackenzie Government was in power?

Now we come to the local part of the case, which forms the marrow of the subject. The Times says:

In answer to our contemporary's third question, it seems to us that we have read of a stove foundry that was to be sold in the N. P. for $100,000, and that it was sold for $100,000.

We accept the invitation with reluctance because our contemporary's lack of knowledge is so extensive that we set right and dispose of the absurdities, is almost a waste of space. However:—

The stove foundry earned ten per cent. clear of all expenses. The profits and much of the capital were stolen by John Hart, the manager, who was put on trial and jumped his bail. See records of the courts here. Messrs. Gurney can give information as to the stove manufacturing business, when properly conducted, under the N. P.

The Times is wrong in its recollection as to "three or four flourishing stove foundries in Belleville 30 years ago." There was no Smith's or Walker's or Wallbridge's foundry thirty years ago. There never was any stove foundry here or any Smith foundry other than that of the Hart & Smith Manufacturing Co's stove foundry above referred to. There were others of a general character, which made said and said a few stoves.

Thirty years ago there were Hart's, Martin's, Patterson's and Brown's foundries, all kinds

JEFF. DAVIS DEAD.

The Leader of the Lost Cause Passes Away.

New Orleans, La., Dec. 6.—Hon. Jeff.

Jefferson Davis, ex-President of the Confederate States, died, at the residence of his wife, at Longwood, N. J., at 10.45 this morning, with a congestive chill, the effects of which he already suffered from for some time.

The deceased was an American soldier and statesman, who was born in Christian County, Ky., on the 3rd of June 1808; shortly afterwards he moved to Mississippi, where he received an academic education at Transylvania College in Kentucky.

He was shortly after appointed by President Monroe, a cadet in the Military Academy, at West Point, where he graduated in 1828. He remained in the army for seven years. In 1836 he married a daughter of ex-President Zachary Taylor.

In 1845 he was a presidential elector from the state of Mississippi. He was elected in 1846 to the Senate and held prominent positions at one time leader of his party in the Senate. On the 6th of February 1861, the Confederate

congress met at Montgomery and organized a provisional government for the seceded states in rebellion against the north.

His voice, however, was not heard in conducting the campaign. He was arrested on the 10th of May, 1865, and was discharged by the military authorities in Memphis, Tenn., being president of a Life Insurance company.

Sobriety and Strikes
Burns, the leader of the recent London strike among the dock laborers, has proved himself a man of great ability and much good sense. It was one of the greatest laborer strikes the world has ever seen; lasted weeks, and was conducted to a successful issue. Though 120,000 laborers were connected with it there was an absence of rioting and crime such as has seldom been seen in any similar strike. The absence of drunkenness had much to do with this. Burns seems to have used his influence to prevent the men from drinking. The relief furnished them was much of it, in the form of tickets not for intoxicants. Now that it is over Buxton has been addressing the men he has probably led, and urging them to avoid drink and the drink shops, and to improve their own homes. Loud responses of "Yes, yes, yes," came from the crowds, and it will be a happy day indeed for them, for their homes, and for England, if these reso-

Mr. Richard Trevillick, a leader among the Knights of Labor, considers temperance the curse of organized labor. He said: "The labor question will never be settled until the liquor question is. How to Cure Headache. Some people suffer from a dull, aching headache every day or night until they are all unstrung. The cause is generally a disordered stomach, and a cure can be effected by using Parmelee's Vegetable Pills containing Mandrake and Dandelion. Dr. Finlay Wark, Lyndser, P. In my own case with badly Ulcerated Throat, after a physician prescribing it for several days to no effect, the Electric Oil cured it thoroughly in twenty-four hours. I have used it since in my children."

Anniversary Sermons.

Delivered by the Rev. Dr. George, of John Street Church.

Yesterday was the third anniversary of Rev. Dr. George's pastorate of the John Street Church, and the services were of a special character. In the morning the Rev. gentleman preached to the members of the Sunday School and the young people of the Church. In the evening, a special service was held in the congregation, of which the following is a synopsis:

At 7:15 A. M. when they were some and gathered the church together, they released all that God had done with them, and how He had opened for them the gates of heaven.

Paul and Barnabas had been commissioned by the church to go forth and preach the Gospel to the Gentiles, and they were in it in spite of persecution. They were in Jerusalem, and the people were delighted with them, but when they attempted to repeat their visit to the place they were once again, certain unbelieving Jews, having threatened Paul and Barnabas, they were driven out of the city by the people, who supposed that he was dead; he however was not, and with Barnabas, went out and preached the Gospel to other cities, confounding those who believed in it, and those who continued in the faith, and told them they would suffer tribulation.

They were stoned, beaten, and driven out of the city by the people, who supposed that he was dead; he however was not, and with Barnabas, went out and preached the Gospel to other cities, confounding those who believed in it, and those who continued in the faith, and told them they would suffer tribulation.

THE GROUND WORK.

Strong Language Used on Behalf of the Aged.

CHICAGO, Dec. 8.—Mr. Foster continued his speech in behalf of Bogue on Saturday, alluding to the meeting which has now been called, which is to be held in Camp 30 on February 7, 1890. "This is the argument, which is the argument to establish your mind the conclusion that this was a conspiracy which originated in the city of Chicago, and which was carried out by Camp 30. There is not one thing in this case, except that four of them are found in the city of Chicago, composed of such men as Michael P. Brady, the lawyer and John J. Finerty, the journalist, and carried out a conspiracy, scheme for the purpose of individuals may be dishonest but such a scheme can be carried out. The purpose of the appointment of a committee in Camp 30 to carry out the scheme, and to make such committee as they saw fit."

Mr. Longmire—"I say the motion was made and carried—made by Davis O'Connor."

Mr. Foster—"I deny it. Now I understand that suggestions have been made by Mr. Longmire to the committee, and I say that Bogue to try Dr. Cronin. The committee was appointed to make a report."

A Night Alarm.

I Awoke last night to find my little boy as usual with the cross that he could hardly breathe, but on giving him a few drops of the oil, he was cured, and he was sleeping peacefully and sweetly next morning completely cured.

Dangerous Counterfeits. Counterfeits are always dangerous, more so than they are to the public. The remarkable success achieved by Nal Balm as a positive cure for Catarrh of the Nose, has led to the manufacture of imitations to imitate it. The public are cautioned not to be deceived by name and appearance, bearing such names as Nal Balm, Nal Balm, etc. Ask for Nal Balm and do not take any imitation, as they may harm you. For sale by all druggists or sent post paid on receipt of price ($1.00 and $1.50) by addressing Bulford & Co., Brockville, Ont.

MR. FARNELL TALKS.

TWO VIGOROUS ADDRESSES AT NOT JINGHAM.

Ireland Quiet Through Conference in London.

London, Dec. 17.—Mr. Farnell addressed the Irish people at Nottingham this afternoon. He declared there never had been a movement of such magnitude in the country which was a comparatively free movement of the kind. He said that the object of the House of Commons was to bring about a settlement of the land

question, and that the House of Commons

was not a body of men who were to be defeated by building houses, clearing the channels of rivers and reclaiming the land. He said that the House of Commons was a body of men who were to be defeated by building

houses, clearing the channels of rivers and reclaiming the land. He said that the House of Commons was a body of men who were to be defeated by building houses, clearing the channels

ery, etc.

Overhead.

Three all the unwholesome Baking Powder overboard and use only the Imperial Cream Baking Powder.

Kingston Dry Dock.
The contractors for the dry dock of Kingston, are getting the stone for the same from the Point Abino quarry.

Going for Them.
The small number of both married and single registered with the City clerk has attracted the attention of Inspector Crowe, of Toronto, and the prosecution of several prominent delinquents is spoken of.

A Family Jar.
The police received a call at a late hour last night to a house at the lower end of Front street. A quarrel was in progress between the inmates, but was quieted down without an arrest being made.

New Opera.
Manager Tammingo is making arrangements for the production here of the play of January, of Gilbert & Sullivan's opera, "The Gondoliers," which is now being performed in London.

Arm Fractured.
Mrs. Elliott, a lady 77 years of age, who was visiting at Mr. J. Thompson's at Kingston, fell from a chair last night and fractured her right arm near the elbow.
Dr. Wilson was summoned and reduced the fracture.

Aldermen Invited.
Thomas Ritchie, Esq. President of the Board of Trade, requests us to state that the aldermen are invited to attend the meeting of the Board to occur tonight and take part in the discussion respecting the municipal system.

Experiments Duet.
Mr. J. H. Hoogen, after using Wilson's Ointment for his family for eight years, writes us that he has never failed to cure Coughs, Colds, Whooping cough, Bronchitis, &c. was, and is, and will be, the experience of others, and use Wilson's Widely Ointment with any such remedy. Sold by all druggists.

Unintentional Lecture.
Principal Dyer reported his illustrated lecture on Paris and the Exposition last evening at the Hallway street church, below a large audience of children, who were shown a large canvas and were seen to great advantage. At intervals the Quintette Club of the church rendered selections which were much appreciated,
being on each occasion compelled to respond to an encore. Ten and 25 cents a bottle, at drug stores.

The Raw, Cutting Wounds.
Bring to the surface every latent pain. A change of even a few degrees makes a difference in the health of the body and many people. Happily disease now holds less sway. Science is continually bringing forth new remedies and the patient is able to combat disease. Polson's Nervine cure has proved the most successful pain reliever known. Its application is simple, and it is equally efficient in all forms of pain, whether internal or external. Ten and 25 cents a bottle, at drug stores.

the make-believe practice (now so common) of showing out or two articles below cost, to make you pay for it on the double with the rest; neither do we approve of the fraud of marking goods at their real value, and then coming down to say one-third, or as a particular favor to one-half, as is seen so much in this city.
Our terms are cash. Respectfully,
J. H. HAYMAN.

Congressman Battersworth intends to introduce his old Commerce Union bill.
There is very little prospect for any such measure, as the protection party in the States is now in power in all branches of the Government.

Examinations for entrance into the High school are being conducted and will continue to-morrow.

You should call at Gen's drug store, and see and taste Terry's celebrated English confectionery and voice pastilles.

21 YEARS.

Onion Business College, Belleville.

This institution began its twenty-first year this month with a larger attendance than in any previous year of its history, as well in numbers as in the extra currency expenditure of the territory from which the students came. Anticipating the increased attendance, large additions have been made to the building, including all modern conveniences.
The question is continually asked, What is the cause of this institution's remarkable success?—a success beyond that of any similar one in Canada. It draws students constantly, year after year, from every part of the Dominion, from the West Indies, and the United States. The answer is, that the success and standing of the graduates continually demonstrate throughout these countries the excellence of its training and young men witnessing the good fortune that has accrued to those who have pursued its course to the College, that they too may get an equal start in life. Hundreds, and in many cases thousands, of boys have to be travelled to reach Belleville, and many colleges are passed on the way.

Chinese cannot here, be made the obstruction for students, but the fees are moderate, and the mode of charging most advantageous to the pupils. By obtaining the college circular you will be convinced of this, and not aware with a young man in the west says in a letter, resorted to day:

Monica, Robinson & Johnson, I received a circular from your college a short time ago, and also circulars from all other colleges. My employer and myself have considered, after carefully examining them, that your institution can give students the best advantage. I shall be with you the 6th of January.

Personal.

Rev. Dr. George, Dr. Gibson, and Mr.
Thos. Ritchie have gone to Kingston to take part in the exercises at Queen's University.

Mr. W. H. Cooper, representative of the Empire, was in the city to-day, and favored us with a visit.

Mr. H. J. Crawford, who for nearly two years has been a teacher in our High School, leaves this city to-morrow morning and will after the holiday season the Scotch High School. Mr. Crawford is a teacher of more than ordinary ability, and a very great respected by the pupils of the school, as also by the pupils of the college. He will, we are glad to miss by the City and High School. For-ball Club, for his prowess has won them
many a game.

Mr. Joseph Wilson, of Montreal, is in town.

Geo. Dickson, Q. C., is, we are pleased to state, improving, word to that effect having been received from Toronto today.

He will not be there.

Mr. Wm. Tompkins was elected for the mayorality of Vancouver by 151 votes, the record of the poll being: Opponent 85; Tompkins 434. Candidates that Mr. Tompkins was but ten days in the field and that his opponent had possession of the office and had been working all the year for re-election was that he had been a teacher in our High School. Mr. Crawford is a teacher of more

City Mission.

The annual Mass tract for the children of the Sunday school will be held at the City Hall on the evening of Thursday, the 28th Dec. With friends please send their contributions for the refreshment, table or to Mrs. Schuster's residence or to the city hall on the morning of Thursday 1. All who have clothes to spare will greatly help the mission by sending what they can give to Mrs. Schuster, Dundas St.

Personal.

Miss Grace Lightfoot leaves to-day for Belleville. She has been in delicate health and goes to that city for treatment.

Her many warm friends will miss her.

Emulsion, is in the city.

Miss Kathleen Doy, of Ingersoll, and Miss Minnie Buckley, Montreal, are spending the holidays with Mrs. Buckley, Dundas street.

Example of a Good Sister.

Mr. W. H. Johnson, an old Belleville boy, has just been promoted to be first assistant book keeper with the firm of McMillan,

Belleville & Clarke, Syracuse, N. Y., who built the waterworks here. He is an example of what the good sister can do.

He is a young man. He took the course three years ago and immediately entered the

Belleville Gas Company's office as assistant book-keeper. A year afterwards he entered the employ of the Water-works Company and has risen step by step till he now, at twenty-one years of age, holds the same position in the head office at Syracuse, N.Y.

In this city and province, all over this continent and in the West Indies there are hundreds of similar examples. See the College circular for them.

Christmas Entertainment.

One of the most successful of entertainments held last evening, in the spacious lecture room of the Tabernacle. The beautiful Christmas carols "Santa Claus Prizes" was rendered, in a most refreshing and credit on the committee of management;

notwithstanding the unfavorable weather,

the lecture room was well filled. Rev. Mr.

Copeland, in his introductory remarks, expressed the regret that all felt at the absence of their esteemed Superintendent,

Professor Holgate, who was detained by the illness of his little boy. Mrs. Vanderpool, and Palmer, Misses Laker and Speer-

and, and Messrs Holgate, Gaverly, and

Butler were among of honorable mention for their valuable services in training the scholars. Apart from the choruses, those who took part were J. B. Butler, C. W.

Service, Black Ouellet, Harry Walker, Hy-

man Dobson, Mabel Black, Annie Turner,

Gertrude, Lena Laker, Alice Frost,

Edna Ouellet, Mabel Ouellet, Gertrude,

Corbett, Mary Thompson and Mabel

Ouellet.

Mrs. Chas. Vanderpool presided at the organ.

In the rendering of the Cantata, the curtains were drawn back, exposing two richly laden trees, to the great delight of all—especially the little folks.

The Belleville Rolling Mills Company

The prospectus has been issued of the Belleville Rolling Mills Company, the provisional directors of which are: John

H. Anderson, Ironworker, Hamilton; John

W. McNeil, Streetcar, Hamilton; John

Munro, Mill Superintendent, Belleville;

Thomas, Highland Park, Hamilton; F.

Finlay, Barrister, Hamilton. Provisional

Secretary, J. Ferris, 38 James

Street, Hamilton.

The prospectus states that the company is being formed for the purpose of carrying on the business of rolling, manufacturing and vending iron and steel and their products in the City of Belleville, or elsewhere, in the Province of Ontario.

At no time within many years have the industries been so strong in Canada for the establishment of a rolling mill for the production of iron and steel as at present.

The high price of iron abroad makes importation unprofitable and the mills now in operation in the country are not of a capacity sufficient to supply the demand. The advance in price is not the result of speculation, but a bona fide revival of the trade caused by increased actual demand throughout the world, for purposes of commerce and armaments; it is not to be regarded as temporary inflation but is rather a return to normal conditions after a period of undue depression. Even during the past depression the Rolling Mills of Canada have existed prosperously, owing mainly to the policy of protection, the duty on scrap iron and on finally on the duty on the trade is increasing and likely to increase still further by reason of the growth and increasing activity of a substantial capital of $80,000, viz:

One complete modern 3-high 19 in. gauge mill, capable of turning out sizes from 6 to 12 in. and from 3 to 12 in. rounds and square, also shape wire rods and wire to forging. This mill will have a capacity of over 35 tons a day.

One complete bar mill capable of turning out sizes from 8 to 14 in. and from 1 to 4

round and square, and shape work of similar dimensions. The capacity of this mill will be over 35 tons a day.

One Rotary Squeezer with capacity for making a 202 lb. ball, one Shear for heavy section rails and heavy scrap; one Shear for medium scrap; one Shear for light scrap;

one Shear for small scrap; one Punch;

one Hot Saw; one Hot Saw; one Punch;

FOUND AT FIVE POINTS.

A CHRISTMAS STORY OF REAL LIFE, BY DAVID A. CURTIS.

OTHER younger generation who know New York only as it has been for twenty years past, growing better all the time despite the sneers of pessimists.

It is impossible to realize that only a few years back there was such a place in the center of the city as the Five Points. Nowadays it does not take unusual courage for a moderately educated man to walk alone in broad daylight through any public street in the city. Then it was not safe to do so, and even policemen rarely ventured alone after dark into the region known by the old name. Now the bars can run through the center of it. Broad streets have been cut through, and old buildings replaced with new. Factories and stores stand where were formerly tumble-down shacks, and that were swarming with the most degraded and vicious of the city's criminals. When the Rev. W. C. Van Meter, with a few friends as earnest and determined as himself, first started a mission school within the borders of this valley of the shadow of death, he was repeatedly warned by the police of the danger he incurred, and it was some time after the work was started before he dared to take even under escort, to the middle of the day, the ladies who were anxious to do it. Teaching in the school. It seems now like a story of a foreign land and another age, but I was in 1854 or 1855 a party of a dozen ladies and gentlemen mobbed as they started homeward from the school one Sunday noon, hustled into the street and assailed with volleys of obscene oaths and rotten vegetables, and so heartily by a horde of half-drunk men and women that they were glad to escape with whole bones and raised garments. And the police seemed powerless to prevent or punish such outrages, for this was no unusual occurrence.

The region about what is now Paradise square, for the distance of a couple of blocks in every direction, was honey-combed with blind alleys and secret passages, some of them running underground from one block to another. It was a city of refuge for criminals, and, though they warred and preyed upon one another with entire lawlessness, they combined as a unit to protect any one among them from the processes of the law. Aside from the criminals the population consisted almost entirely, if not quite so, of the poverty-stricken, fed on filth and degraded crime, and, as very often in history, were dead in hand.

The children, who were coaxed one by one into the mission school, were a crowd of little savages. Their ignorance was something amazing. It was not very uncommon to find among them boys and girls of 6 or 7 years old who did not know their full names, but who stoutly declared that "Sally" or "Bill" was the only name they had, and once or twice children were found who actually did not know whether they had ever had fathers and mothers. Some had no homes. God only knows how they kept alive, for they slept in holes and corners and fed like vagrant cats and dogs on whatever they could beg, find or steal. Impossible! Certainly it is, but it is true, nevertheless.

Among the wild and vicious of all who came in was a boy who was the originator of at least one famous joke, though without intention. The teacher asked him his name, and he said it was George. Being asked what his last name was he said that was his last name. "But you must have another name," urged the teacher. "Is it George-Smith, or George-Johnson, or George-What?" "None," he said, shortly. "Saint George, Will you George Nuthin," said the teacher. "I ain't got no other name." But the joke came when the teacher, wishing to know whether he had learned anything at all, asked him, "Do you know who made you?"

At the same instant a boy behind him stuck a pin into the teacher's back, and very common among the little savages, but it did not hurt any one. I was so sure I was right that I jumped from his seat, and found at the top of my head.

George lived with Aunt Sally. "My wife," said Mr. Harrison, "is doing everything she can for poor children, especially for orphans. And about Christmas time there is a story about it, of course, but it is too long and too painful to tell now." This is Mr. Van Meter, whose earnestness in his chosen work made him rejoice in every new friend, and whose enthusiasm was contagious.

Before long the story was known. Mrs. Harrison's father was a wealthy manufacturer, whose two daughters were the children of different mothers, and developed as such different characteristics. The elder one, Sarah, was the daughter of his first wife, who had deserted him and her infant child to run away with one of his clerks. He knew little of her story after her flight, but in the course of a year and a half he learned that she had been forsaken by her lover and had plunged into such a terrible course of dissipation that death had been mercifully speedy in overtaking her. A year later he married the second time, and a daughter was born to him, and as the two children grew up they were treated, as nearly as possible, exactly alike. Everything that was good, kind, or affectionate, was done by their command, and every influence of refinement and education was exerted to fit them for a high place in society, but whether it was some sin in the blood, or a morbid breaking over a mother's sin and shame, something led the elder daughter to turn away from good and seek evil from her early youth. The father sought in every way possible to avert the misery which he foresaw for herself and for her, but it was of no avail. A wayward youth was followed by utter recklessness as the unhappy girl became a woman. She still made Mr. Van Meter's house her home, and would spend a large portion of her time there; but there were prolonged absences which the father knew in every way to control, and into which they dared not inquire closely for fear of shameful disclosures. The claims came in a peculiarly painful way. Among the gentlemen who visited at the house was Mr. Harrison, the clergyman, who was the younger daughter was the one he loved in marriage, both the girls fell in love with him. Sarah's passion was more the less violent because of his lawless character and his utter hopelessness, and when she learned that her sister was carrying the man she herself loved, she felt home finally, after a terrible scene in which she swore vengeance, decided to follow him, and she did so.

For three years she was heard of no more. Her father, old before his time with sorrow, mourned for her truly, and would at any time have received her back to him, but she never came, and he knew too well the futility of trying to track her or to lure her home again. All once she was gone, she was gone, and she demanded an interview, which was readily granted.

It was a long, cold door, and no one was there but the father, who was heard of no more. A numerous party to go on a train for New York, and all efforts to trace her were ineffectual. Had the newspapers said that time passed the particulars of the story it would have become as famous as the Chicago stock case, but the family afraid from the exposure that would have been inevitable, and though all the detective skill that could be procured was employed, no publication was made in the press.

Six years had passed from the day the boy was stolen when Mr. and Mrs. Harrison entered the little mission school in the Five Points. It was her own loss that had made her so peculiarly anxious to look after children, but, though she was forever searching for her own little one, both she and her husband had almost given up the hope of ever finding him. While Mr. Harrison was talking with Mr. Van Meter, however, her eager eyes were scanning the faces of all the boys in the room.

Suddenly she turned pale. "Oh, George!" she said, or gasped, rather, and without another word she flew rather than ran to the other end of the room. Draping on her knees in front of the poor little wail who had drifted in so strangely, she kissed him with both hands and looked eagerly, almost wildly, into his eyes.

"What is your name?" she said to the startled child. "George," he said. "I know," he answered, beginning to cry, for he had developed a sensitiveness about his lack of a proper complement of names, and, moreover, he was half frightened by the now frantic woman's strange behavior.

Suddenly she tore open his jacket and the poor, ragged shirt he had on, and looking on his breast found the long, thin white thing which he had so quickly reached her side—she gathered him into her arms, dirt, rage and all, and kissed him until it seemed as if he were trying to devour him. Then, of course, she fainted.

It did not take long, though, for the other ladies in the room to bring her back to consciousness, and then such a scene as rarely witnessed in the world put an end to anything like the usual order of exercises. Mr. Harrison was naturally a little slower than his wife to recognize the child, but only a little, and the bewildered boy was shortly embraced and kissed as few children in this world ever have been.

Such a prayer as Mr. Van Meter uttered, while the tears streamed down his cheeks and every nerve in the room dropped on his knees, has seldom been heard even from his eloquent lips, and in a few more minutes Mr. Harrison proposed to leave. It was obvious enough to him that he had to take his child home, but the good missioner was well acquainted with the neighborhood to let him go unattended.

"You would be robbed before you had gone a block, if the police saw you carrying away the child," he said, and it was presently arranged that a policeman should be summoned to escort the party up to Broadway, and a carriage should be taken there.

This was as quickly as possible, for there was real danger of trouble if the news had been spread through the neighborhood that the claims came in a peculiarly painful way. Among the gentlemen who visited at the house was Mr. Harrison, the clergyman, who was the younger daughter was the one he loved in marriage, both the girls fell in love with him. Sarah's passion was more the less violent because of his lawless character and his utter hopelessness, and when she learned that her sister was carrying the man she herself loved, she felt home finally, after a terrible scene in which she swore vengeance, decided to follow him, and she did so.

Work Too Hard!
The Result is Sleeplessness, Nervousness and a Broken-Down System, often Ending in Insanity.

Thousands of overworked business men, worn-out brain-workers, and overtaxed women, in all parts of the Dominion, now today in the same position. Their nerves are weak, digestion poor, head aching, and they cannot sleep at night. "It is all the same," they say, "as Isaac Asimov. This is the cause of that terrible Paralysis. Before it is too late, use Dr. Elie's Compound." It cures the nervous system, restores the strength of the muscles, restores the vitality, regulates the blood supply, and restores the health of the body. Do not despair, but use Dr. Elie's Compound, and be treated to health and happiness, the same as was Mr. Elie. Dr. Elie's Compound is the only medicine I have great pleasure in recommending as Dr. Elie's Compound. My system was run down and I was unable to do any work. I was very weak and nervous. I commenced taking Dr. Elie's Compound and in a few days I was able to do my work. I am now able to transact my business and endure any amount of exertion without loss of sleep. Dr. Elie's Compound can be purchased at any drug store. If it should not be on hand, write to Dr. H. S. Wells, 1711 Broadway, N. Y. C., Montreal.

FIVE KINGSTON CONVICTS CELEBRATE CHRISTMAS

THIRTEEN MEN

They tried to Meet and Share Across the Lake
—How the Trick Was Done — The Records of the Men

KINGSTON, N. Y., Dec. 25. (The five convicts who escaped from the Penitentiary last night are still at large. Two additional particulars of their escape have been learned.)

As has been the custom from time immemorial, the convicts of the Kingston Penitentiary celebrated Christmas last night at the extra daily allowance of the food of the convicts were in their cells of making that preparation for the celebration of the day. They were made to work on Saturday, and they worked until nearly 10 o'clock. They were in charge of Guard Appleton, the warden, and the other guards.

About 10 o'clock Appleton was suddenly notified that the convicts had escaped. The escape was removed and denied by one of the prisoners. Two convicts named Morgan and Smith were taken to the hospital. The other three were also bound until they refused to join in the escape.

Then the boss of the bakery was operated with Appleton's keys and the quintet escaped through the roof of the building. Morgan and Brown was the first to appear. Hester and Smith in the dim light saw what he took to be an officer but he was not. He was taken to the hospital. A moment he was taken by a blow from a man who was carrying a lantern. He was soon overpowered, disarmed, and together they were bound. The convicts were taken to the hospital and their mouths stuffed with bags. Their coats and weapons were taken.

The convicts were taken to the hospital for liberty, looking the door after them. By means of a rope they were taken to the top of the lake. The top of the lake well reached. Then a rope with a grappling hook was let down on the shore. The convicts were taken to the shore. They were seen to have followed the line shore and at Hesterwood Robert Lockwood, the warden, was taken to the shore.

THE LONG LOOKED FOR REVIVAL

TELL WHEN YOUR ANSWERS ARE RIGHT

At the urgent request of thousands of the friends of TURN, we more competition in the field—the crown or one of the whole lot. The clarification has been so arranged that if you answer a question, no matter at what time, between now and 31st December, and you are sent in, you will be in a better position than ever before to secure one of these rewards, at the best prices, as will be sure, go to those whose answers are received first.

Be prompt! Don't delay! For the first time, we have a limited stock, and we want those who don't get rewards. These competitions will not get a prize. The profit comes from the sale of the book. We want to give you a reward for the first time, and we will secure a prize. We give our readers credit for understanding this, and also this point is sent always to be as early as possible in sending in your answers. Be sure they are right corrections can be made after your answers are mailed—unless you send the over or under.

In the name of one of the plants proposed for a national flower may be found a range of mountains sloping toward both Europe and Asia, a meadow, a verb, "an epoch," "a care," a king whose name is the title of one of Shakespeare's plays, a girl's name, a cloth measure, "true," a part of the head, worn since

No. 700.—A Charmale.
Little Tom and his sister went fishing,
Their ages were seven and five;
They returned all elated and smiling,
Declaring they'd caught some nine.
Triumphant they opened their basket,
To let mamma see their grand prize,
"Why, these are not fish, they are one two,
You silly young ones, see their eyes!"
The children looked sore, disappointed,
And Tom laid his two on the floor.

Deciding he didn't like fishing
And was sure he'd not go any more

Orchard Care.
You must keep an eye on your orchard,
ever trust to Providence and your hired man, for a careless hand will do more damage in an orchard than he will do good. Keep all tramps out of the orchard that are around after the jobs of

ing. I no man prune in your orchard without you know he is a skillful hand at the business. Wrap your trees early in the fall to keep the rabbits from barking the trees. The best material to use is screen wire. It will keep the borers and mice away from the trees as well as the rabbits. The wire will cost about twenty-two cents per yard, and one yard will make five guards. Mr. Schultz, before the Missouri State Horticultural Society,

Allen's Lung Balm was introduced to the public after its merits for the prompt cure of such diseases had been fully tried. It excites expectoration and causes the lungs to throw off the phlegm or mucus, change the secretions and purifies the blood; it holds the irritated parts; gives strength to the digestive organs; brings the liver to its proper action, and imparts strength to the whole system. Such is the remedial and satisfactory effect that it is warranted to break up the most distressing cough in a few hours' time, if not of too long standing. It contains no opium in any form, and is recommended to the most delicate child. There is no

Coughs, Colds, Croup.

Allen's Lung Balm was introduced to the public after its merits for the prompt cure of such diseases had been fully tested. It catches expectoration and causes the Lung to throw off the phlegm or mucus, changing the secretions and purifies the blood; it holds the irritated parts; gives strength to the digestive organs; brings the liver to its proper action, and imparts strength to the whole system. Such is the immediate and satisfactory effect that it is warranted to break up the most distressing cough in a few hours' time, if not of too long standing. It contains no opium in any form and is warranted to be perfectly harmless to the most delicate child. There is no real necessity for so many deaths by consumption when Allen's Lung Balm will prevent if only taken in time. For Consumption, and all diseases that lead to it, such as Coughs, neglected Colds, Bronchitis, Asthma and all diseases of the Lungs. ALLEN'S LUNG BALM is the Great Northern Remedy. For Croup and Whooping Cough it is almost a specific. It is an old standard remedy, and sold universally at 50 cents.
